Get Hooked on self-advocacy!

It could be a dream. It could be a cause. It could be a Passion. We're coming together this season to share what we're hooked on.

What is “Get Hooked on Self-Advocacy?”

“Get Hooked” is a campaign to share across the regions what we’re interested in. You could write something you advocate for or you could write something you’re passionate about. As long as it’s important to you, it’s important to us.

What do I do with the fish when I’m done?

Once you’ve written your name and what you’re hooked on, you’ll mail the fish back to your regional coordinator. You can email them to get the right address.

What if I don’t have a printer?

If you don’t have a printer, you can email Kelsey Oates with your name and what you’d like her to write on your fish. She’s at kelsey.oates@wearemass.org.

What's going to happen with all the fish?

We'll be displaying the fish in our office and taking pictures of them there. We also may share images of individuals fish as well as the groups on our social media pages.
